Gas Stations Across New Jersey Lower Gas Prices to Demonstrate Self-Serve Savings

Members of the Fuel Your Way NJ coalition will hold a press conference on Friday to announce that 75 gas stations throughout New Jersey lowered their prices for the day to demonstrate how much motorists could save if the state offered the option of self-serve gas.

The Fuel Your Way NJ Self-Serve Day of Awareness is part of a campaign to educate the public about how much they could potentially save if the “Motorist Fueling Choice and Convenience Act” were enacted.

The legislation, which was introduced in the state Assembly in February, would allow gas stations the option of offering self-serve, while still requiring stations with more than four dispensers to continue to offer full-service gas pumps, giving consumers the option to pump their own gas if they wish.

WHEN: Friday, May 13, 2022 @ 11 a.m.

WHERE: Newport Exxon, 245 12th Street (corner of Jersey Avenue on approach to Holland Tunnel), Jersey City, NJ

WHY: “With the cost of gas prices continuing to rise, it’s taking a bigger and bigger bite out of people’s wallets,” said Sal Risalvato of NJGCA. “We want the public to know that one of the quickest ways we can reduce gas prices is to allow gas stations the ability to offer self-serve in New Jersey.”
