INSURANCE * UNDERGROUND STORAGE TANKS

For NJGCA members that own underground tanks, we predict that 2022 will be much like 2021. And 2020 – at first, dominated by the Covid pandemic, followed by an economic shutdown, then a recovery, then another variant. Challenges to being in business are often best met with preparation. We continue to offer our prayers and best wishes.

Like last year, we remind owners of underground tanks must continue the 30 day visual inspection regulation for Sumps and Spill Buckets. For NJGCA members that already do their best to comply, this inspection is once a month. See the mention of “preparation” above.

NJGCA members still want the best tank insurance advice they can get. They want explanations and options for changes in the tank insurance market. The policy deductibles are going up for old tanks. For more information, see our article in the Spring issue of your On The Road magazine. If your location is listed on DEP's active remediation list, then someone is dealing with LSRPs; maybe you, maybe your landlord or tenant, maybe the prior operator.

NJGCA members want the best tank insurance coverage they can get. A new tank insurance program has begun offering coverage and a company that had been offering tank insurance is winding down their operations. Change happens. Two words - be prepared. Where we used to process applications 30 days in advance, we're moving to 45-60 days. And relying on documents by postal mail is uncertain.

We are confident in a better future. Having faith in yourself is a good start. But “hope” is not a good risk management plan. If there are issues with the DEP and you want to discuss compliance, or if your tanks are will be removed this year, contact us. Our 25 plus years of experience proves we can help.

DANA Insurance is proud to be a partner with NJGCA and to have served for many years on behalf of its members. We've provided tank insurance to thousands of tank owners and operators. We value working with every one of them.

GASOLINE AND DIESEL SUPPLIERS

Liberty Petroleum was founded in 2000 by three veteran mid-Atlantic distributors with a straightforward goal: to level the playing field for independent retailers like you. Today, distributors are flying the Liberty banner at more than 400 distinctly-branded Liberty retail locations across the country from NJ and Louisiana to Kansas and Idaho.

We're constantly monitoring market developments, strengthening our supplier relationships in key areas of the country, and using Liberty's collective buying power to negotiate from a position of strength. This is especially true to lock in credit card rates that are substantially better than those offered by the major oil companies.

Our favorable formula pricing is tied to market indexes and our goal is to give you the insight to make better decisions and increase profitability. We offer one of the lowest prices on premium in the industry, and we're here to support your business so that you enjoy the freedom to compete.

In addition to our own-branded Liberty Fuel, we also distribute Citgo branded products as well as commercial buying capability.
